PLAYED HIM ALIVE

Judge Sanders Goes After Sam Jones, the Evangelist.

Says Sam Is an "Evangelist," Whatever That Is, But Knows Little About Paducah.

WILL HAVE MORE TO SAY

Judge D. L. Sanders, in the police court this morning, said incidentally between cases that he understood Rev. Sam Jones took him and Mayor Yeiser for a text yesterday afternoon at the meeting for men. He said that every time Rev. Jones came to Paducah, it seemed, he took occasion to single him, Judge Sanders, out and abuse him. He declared he was ready to concede that every public officer is subject to criticism, but that he thought it was going too far when a man comes to a town and deliberately lies on an officer as he claims Rev. Jones has about him.

Judge Sanders said that since yesterday afternoon he has received ten letters and a number of personal requests, to publish the letter he wrote in reply to Rev. Jones, and had published, several years ago when Rev. Jones unjustly criticized him. The judge has the letter and stated that he would shortly, he thought, at the instance of these friends and for the benefit of the public have it published again.

Rev. Jones, he went on, came to Paducah several years ago, and abused him and other officials, but was in a measure excusable then because he was lied to by citizens from whom he got his information, and may have thought he was telling the truth. Judge Sanders declared he found out afterward when had misinformed the minister, and told them face to face they had lied, and they never resented it. Since then, he averred, Rev. Jones has had ample time and opportunity to learn the truth, and when his misrepresents officials now he should be shown up in his true light. He always managed to roast Judge Sanders just before he left and then claimed Judge Sanders didn't answer him until after he had gone from the city, declared the court.

Judge Sanders, by this time, had the closest attention from his auditors as he warmed up to his subject and skinned the evangelist. He said that people who went out yesterday to hear a good, Christian sermon were disappointed and heard only halderdash and rot. "I wouldn't use or permit used in this police court room the language that he uses in his pulpit," declared the court.

"He preached against me when he was here a number of years ago the last night he was here. I remember they say there were about 5000 people there to hear him. I wasn't there myself. I never saw Sam Jones in my life but my friends told me there were about five thousand people present on that occasion. I was up at Smithland enjoying a quiet Sabbath. Well, he gave me a roast, and it was only about three weeks before the election. He finally said for all who would help beat Sanders to stand up, and I am told that 6,000 out of that 5,000 stood up. You see he does the people who go to hear him any way. They do what he tells them. One of the best men in Paducah was then running against me, too, Hon. E. W. Hagley, but I beat him by nearly a thousand votes. That's how Sam Jones beat

REV. JONES PREACHES

Large Crowd Out in Morning and Afternoon.

He Roasts the City Officials in the Same Old Way at Broadway Church.

EVANGELIST RETURNS HOME

The big auditorium of the Broadway Methodist church was filled yesterday morning long before the hour for the Rev. Sam Jones to preach, and the crowd continued to come even after the service began. Mr. Jones is a popular favorite in Paducah and he did not disappoint his admirers yesterday. He was very much his versatile self, and dealt out his home truths in the same vigorous style that ever characterizes him, unhampered by the church surroundings. He stated that he had been tempted to preach a pretty sermon, but concluded it would not be appropriate.

His text was Gal. vi. 7, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap;" and very forcibly did he send it home to his hearers. Mr. Jones is not given to "sparing the rod," and in his sermon yesterday dealt vigorous blows, straight from the shoulder. For over an hour he held the most interested attention of his big audience, enforcing his thoughts by the telling anecdotes and homely philosophy that is so much a part of him and all he says. It was a sermon after Mr. Jones' most inimitable style and greatly pleased his hearers. Mr. Jones knows his Paducah audiences very well by this time and does not stand on ceremony with them, but they seem to like it and he cannot come too often to suit them. It is estimated that fully 1,000 people heard him yesterday morning.

He preached in the afternoon to men only, or, as he forcibly expressed it, "to male bipeds, there being no men in Paducah," and quite a large crowd of them were on hand.

He did not preach anywhere at night, disappointing many.

The men's meeting at the Methodist church yesterday afternoon was largely attended, both the main church room and the lecture room being packed.

Rev. Sam Jones started off his talk on the subject "Oboice," and dwelt on the matter of choosing between right and wrong. He stated that everyone had the power of choice and every city could be made a good one if the officials only would exercise this power in the right direction. He stated that of the mayor, police judge or any other officials would not do right and if no one could be gotten in this country for such offices, then to import them, but get them at any cost.

He next turned to Sunday theaters and baseball and stated that if he had a dog that went to either baseball or theater on Sunday he would kill him. He stated that while a boy he would often go out into the woods, and one point he noticed particularly was that a tree fell whichever way it leaned, and that the stand taken by the mayor, judge or other officials could be seen in this way. If they lean to saloons then they will fall that way and will allow them to remain open on Sunday.

Judge Sanders next came in for a share. Rev. Jones stated that the city court was like a country grist mill; when the water was low the corn was ground for toll, and when the water got still lower it was taken. He remarked further that he had traveled a great deal and had been in forty states and in hundreds of cities of Paducah's size with the 10:30 closing law, and this was the first occasion where a judge had questioned the legality of such a law, and for this one act he desired to pin a blue ribbon on his coat.

As to Sunday baseball and theaters he stated that, his observations had taught him that it was not the cry of the laboring class of people who were alleged to want Sunday baseball, but the cry of corporations for money.

BACK TO PADUCAH

Dispatchers' Offices Will be Moved Here Wednesday.

Will Bring Back Three Dispatchers and the Trainmaster of the Division.

HAD BEEN LONG EXPECTED

Authentic information reached the city today that the Illinois Central dispatchers' offices for the Central City division, which embraces the road from Central City to Paducah, will be moved back to Paducah about next Wednesday. This had been predicted and expected for some time, and will be good news to the people of Paducah.

For the past two years the offices have been located at Princeton, Ky., and it was believed by many soon after the change that Paducah was the only logical location for them, and steps were taken several times to get them back here, but without success until now.

As a result of the change three dispatchers will return to Paducah, with Trainmaster T. A. Banks, the clerks, stenographers and others connected with the office.

The dispatchers will be located near the city in the building on the Memphis division built for them a few years ago, and not far from the new passenger depot. The removal will not require much time and will please all the railroad men.

Those who will return here are Dispatchers A. J. Jorgenson, N. Shaw and J. L. Thomas with two operators, day and night men, Trainmaster T. A. Banks and his clerk, Mr. King Thomas. Mr. Jorgenson will remove his family here and his many friends will be pleased to learn that the change has been ordered for this reason, if no other.

Mr. W. J. Harahan, assistant general manager, who is in the city today confirmed the report relative to the removal of the offices, which will be Wednesday.

Mr. Harahan also stated that Mr. J. W. Higgins, superintendent of transportation, has resigned effective today, and is succeeded as forecast elsewhere by Mr. I. G. Rawn.

NARROW ESCAPE

LIGHTNING STRIKES A POLE AND ENTERS MR. LE ROY'S HOME.

A bolt of lightning last evening about 6 o'clock struck a telephone pole on South Third street near Norton, and running down a wire tore off a part of a screen door at the residence of Mr. M. LeRoy, burned out his telephone, but did not injure anyone. Mrs. LeRoy saw the lightning strike the pole, a small cloud of smoke arising as the crossarm was torn off. Very little damage was done.

DOWN EMBANKMENT

Carriage is Harled Down and Injures Three.

Close Call for the Driver and Two Occupants of Carriage Last Night.

HORSE BROKE DOWN RAILING

Mr. F. W. McKee, of 614 North Fourth street, and his father-in-law Mr. F. W. Day, of Stephen, Ark., who had been visiting him, were lying at the former's home badly injured, the result of an accident at 12th street and Caldwell avenue this morning at 3 o'clock while the men were en route to the depot, where the latter would start for his home.

They had taken one of the Palmer Transfer Co. hacks, No. 27, in charge of Tim Enoch, colored and had gotten to the corner of Twelfth street, which turns into Caldwell avenue, when the horse became frightened at something in the road and jumped against the fence guarding the deep hollow. The railing gave way and let the cab and occupants rolled down into the hollow.

The mishap happened so suddenly that neither the driver or occupants of the cab could get out. The cab rolled down the steep embankment, making several complete somersaults before it reached the bottom and it is marvelous that no one was killed outright. The driver was bruised, but is not seriously injured. Mr. McKee has a shoulder badly wrenched and is out in several places about the face where the broken window glass struck him, while his father-in-law is more seriously injured, having his right shoulder blade fractured, a rib broken and his ears badly cut by the broken glass. Mr. Kirby, of the Transfer company, was summoned and secured medical aid for the injured. The horse and cab were finally rescued and the injured taken home. The damage to the vehicle is great but the horse escaped injury. Dr. Sight's attended the injured.

Mr. Palmer, of the Transfer company, stated this morning that the accident was unavoidable.

The horse had never done anything like it before, it seems, and the object that frightened it could not be found. Had the railing guarding the hollow been secure the horse never would have broken it. The accident created a great deal of excitement in that neighborhood, the residents thinking that some one had been killed.

APPOINTMENT IN DOUBT

Master Mechanic Barton of the local shops, who went to Chicago Saturday on business, has returned. It is rumored that the reported promotion will not be made, although nothing definite has been given out. Mr. Barton is said to have been called there on business pertaining to this matter.

WAS MIGHTY CLOSE

But Jackson Won by a Narrow Margin.

The Paducah Team Clearly Outclassed the Jackson Boys Yesterday.

TEAM RETURNS TOMORROW

Paducah lost to Jackson yesterday in a five inning game by a score of 3 to 2, the game being lost, it is claimed, by bad decisions against Paducah. This is the third game lost since the team has been playing in the league.

Hedges pitched yesterday's game and Tom Clifford caught. Hedges did good work, as the hits show, but the bare running of the home team was bad, which probably was a big factor in the result. The local team made 3 runs, 12 hits and 2 errors, while the Jackson boys made 3 runs, only 6 hits and 3 errors. Paducah outclassed them in hits, but the Jackson boys again excelled in base running and won out. The game was stopped in the fifth inning by rain.

Today Paducah will meet Jackson again at the latter place and then will return home for a series of three games with Vincennes. The home team will then go to Hopkinsville for three games, Henderson three games, Owensboro three games, Vincennes three games, Cairo three games, and then return home for a series of twelve games which will be played with all the other teams, Cairo coming first. This will make the first appearance of the Cairo team here this season and the fans will doubtless be out in force.

On Thursday ladies will be admitted free and on this day Rnsie, the famous pitcher, will pitch. Rnsie made himself famous in the New York National league club years ago. Vincennes captured him from the major league and he is said to still be a wonder.

YESTERDAY'S K. I. T. GAMES.

Owensboro, June 1—Eight hundred people saw Owensboro defeat Hopkinsville in a featureless game yesterday. The score: Owensboro, 12 runs, 15 hits, 5 errors. Hopkinsville, 8 runs, 11 hits, 3 errors. Batteries, Cox and Rutledge, Eggleston and Street.

VINCENNES 1, CAIRO 0.

Cairo, Ill., June 1—Vincennes defeated Cairo by a score of 1 to 0. Score: r h e
Cairo, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 0 8
Vincennes, 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1 8 1
Batteries—Clark and Bourgeois; Watch and Kelley. Umpire, Powers.

SATURDAY'S K. I. T. GAMES.

At Owensboro the Hopkinsville and Owensboro teams played sixteen innings resulting in a score of 1 to 0 in favor of Owensboro. It was the best game of the season.

The feature of the game was the work of the pitchers and a fine catch of Edwards in center field. The Owensboro Inquirer says:

"The best game of baseball that was ever seen in this city and probably the best that will ever be played here was that which took place between Owensboro and Hopkinsville yesterday afternoon. For two solid hours the two teams wrestled and struggled for some little advantage which might lead to a run and for two solid hours did fate turn against them and their fondest hopes generally ended in a little pop up into a waiting fielder's hands. Probably two more equally opposed teams never met on the same field and only in big leagues are the contests so severe and fought to such a close finish."

Henderson defeated Clarksville by a score of 12 to 6.

Cairo defeated Vincennes by a score of 17 to 1.

Rain prevented the game between Paducah and Jackson at Jackson.

NICKNAMES OF CLUBS.

The Hopkinsville New Era says: Since the baseball season was inaugurated a few days ago all of the teams in the K. I. T. league have acquired nicknames. Up to date the following are in use and some of them will stick: Hopkinsville, "The Hoppers;" Henderson, "The Hoes;" Cairo, "The Egyptians;" Vincennes, "Alices;" Jackson, "Red Railroaders;" Owensboro, "The Distillers;" Paducah, "The Paddys;" Clarksville, "The Villagers."

NOTES.

This afternoon Chairman Weille received a message that Henderson had transferred her games to Paducah, and will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Owing to the fact that new players have been secured at great cost, on Sunday the admission will be 35 cents to bleachers and 50 cents to grand stand.

Paducah will soon get in the lead. The bad weather and the fact that the boys are in a hostile country probably had a great deal to do with her defeat.

Thursday will be Indies' day in Paducah this week. The association has a treat in store for them, and a large crowd is expected.

Rnsie, a few years ago the greatest pitcher in the world, will probably pitch the game for Vincennes.

AN EVERYDAY TRUST

One that Keeps Prices Constantly at the Top Notch.

Chickens, Eggs and Butter Bought, Stored and Shipped Away.

The price of eggs, chickens and produce of many descriptions is said to be regulated in this section by the three produce houses, one Armour's, another Swift's, and the Ohio Valley Co. The present high price of chickens and many other things is ascribed to the fact that these companies have unlimited capital, and with it purchase through their agencies, which radiate through village and precinct, all they can get their hands on. If there is no market here they send them elsewhere, and vast amounts are sent out every week to other places, thus keeping the supply here reduced and the prices high.

There is no remedy for this condition of affairs, it is stated on the market. The farmers and raisers in many instances get the benefit of the high prices charged on the market, but often they do not. It is said by many in a position to know that small spring chickens that now sell here for from 25 to 40 cents each are bought up from the farmers for 15 cents. Although it is said there have been raised this spring more chickens than ever known in this section, prices were never higher nor chickens more scarce.

Much of this stuff bought by the "trust" might never come to this market, and the enlarged demand for it is of course a benefit to the country and the raisers or producers. The "trusts" do not stop there, however, and buy only the surplus, but take everything in sight, including what would otherwise be brought to the market and sold in competition, and if the supply exceeds the demand they store the produce in their cold storage. The result is limited demand and high prices on the local market, but thus far no plan has been devised by which relief may be afforded.

NOTHING MISSED

BUT THIEVES WENT THROUGH MR. PAT LALLY'S RESIDENCE.

Thieves entered the residence of Mr. Pat Lally, at Tenth and Trimble streets, yesterday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock and went through every drawer and closet in the building but taking nothing as far as can be discovered, but one bottle of perfume.

Mr. Lally and family reside over the Biederman grocery store, formerly operated by Mr. Lally, and had left the house yesterday afternoon. In the absence of the family the theft was committed, the intruders breaking into the lattice door and entering through a bath room window. Mr. Lally has searched throughout the house but fails to find anything of value gone. He thinks the thieves were boys as two boys were seen to leave the yard in company with a man, about 4 o'clock that afternoon but nothing was thought of this as men often come in the grocery yard.

CONDUCTORS' HOME

LOOKOUT INN MAY BE SECURED BY OFFICIALS OF THE O. R. C.

Chattanooga, June 1—The Order of Railway Conductors is investigating several sites in this section for a home for disabled conductors, which the organization proposes to build or buy. Two years ago this matter was taken up and negotiations begun for the purchase of Lookout Inn, but no progress was made. At the meeting just held in Pittsburgh a new committee was appointed, and instructed to secure a proper building or site. J. W. Miller, an official of the order, was here this week and will return next week to pursue negotiations. It is understood that they desire to purchase Lookout Inn, but they have several other places in the vicinity in view.

RIP IN PETTICOATS.

A FRENCH WOMAN SLEEPS TWENTY YEARS AND DIES.

Paris, June 1—Marguerite Boyenal of Thelles, near San Quentin, who has been in a cataleptic state since May 21, 1883, awakened Wednesday. For some time past she had been suffering from phthisis, and it is believed the effects of this malady on her system conduced to her awakening.

She moved her hand on Saturday for the first time and groaned slightly.

When Dr. Chartier took hold of her arm she said, "You are pinching me," and subsequently replied to questions by "yes" and "no." She was, however, in a state of great weakness and gradually sank, dying the day after awakening.

Marguerite Boyenal's lethargy was caused by fright. She had had a child, which died shortly after its birth under circumstances which led to the opening of a judicial investigation. One day in May, 1883, while Marguerite was ironing, a neighbor said to her:

"The gendarmes are coming to arrest you."

Marguerite had a series of fits, and gradually fell into her long slumber.

In 1894 the girl was described as being white as a statue and corpse-like as a mummy, and her bones seemed to be covered with parchment instead of skin. The body was rigid, and only the pulse beats showed that she was alive. Life was sustained by washing the girl's body in milk every day, and pouring a few drops of milk or spirits into the sleeper's mouth through a reed. The mother allowed anyone to see her for a small fee. Many prominent physicians visited the patient during her twenty years' sleep.

ALASKAN GOLD.

OUTPUT OF YUKON MAY AMOUNT TO ABOUT $3,000,000.

Dawson, Alaska, June 1—Never before in the history of banking in Dawson have there been such heavy purchases of gold dust as yesterday and today. The amounts purchased by the two banks here, in connection with the large amounts deposited for safe keeping, will aggregate upwards of $1,250,000.

Present indications are that the Yukon output of gold this season will exceed that of last year by from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000.

A moral wave has been in progress for some time, resulting in a great scattering of gamblers.

SUPERSTITIOUS.

"This is the third time you've been arrested and brought before me for drunkenness, isn't it?" asked the irate justice.

"Yes, judge, it is, but it's all on account of my superstitions, judge."

"How so?"

"Well, whenever I see spirits I always try to down 'em."

"So this is the third time you've been arrested for being superstitious? Well, I'll bust another superstition by giving you 30 days in jail, thus proving that there's no 'luck in odd numbers.'"

CONSTIPATED BOWELS.

To have good health, the body should be kept in a laxative condition, and the bowels moved at least once a day, so that all the poisonous wastes are expelled daily. Mr. G. L. Edwards, 142 N. London, June 1—Anthony Hope, novelist and playwright, is to marry Elizabeth Sheldon of George Alexander's company, whose engagement to wed Henry Alusley of the same company was announced last week. APPLAUDED HIS OWN SPEECH.

A GOOD JOKE ON HIMSELF TOLD BY SENATOR SMOOT OF UTAH.

Although Senator Reed Smoot of Utah resided in Washington less than a fortnight during the recent session he did not escape the anecdote craze. The scene of the best story he told was laid in the southern part of the Mormon state, which is settled largely by Scandinavians.

According to the chroniclers Mr. Smoot is not much of a politician, nor yet a Daniel Webster when it comes to oratory. He was assigned by his Republican central committee, therefore, to deliver his maiden effort before the foreigners in a Southern Utah village. His advent had been widely heralded and the hall in which the meeting was to be held was crowded with swarthy Swedish farmers when Mr. Smoot turned on his eloquence.

The applause was not all that he had expected. Only one person, an old man on the front row, seemed exceptionally interested. He applauded wildly, laughed at all the speaker's jokes and manifested every sign of excited appreciation. After Mr. Smoot had finished his enthusiastic undertaker arose to speak. Feeling grateful, the senator determined to show his appreciation in like manner. The old man's remarks were entirely in Swedish, which was, to Mr. Smoot, denser than Greek; but, not to be outdone, Mr. Smoot followed the infection of the speaker's voice and whenever he thought an climax was reached led the applause wildly.

"I cheered and stamped on the floor in a most undignified manner," said Mr. Smoot in relating the story, "and I was at a loss to understand the curious looks centered upon me. Finally a man sitting behind me leaned forward and inquired if I understood the speaker."

"Not a word," I confessed, "but it's a good speech, isn't it?"

"Well," he replied, "you may be interested to know that he's translating your speech. None of these people understand English."—New York Sun.

VERY VILE

ONE OF THE YOUNGER WILD WEST FEATURES GETS A HOT ROAST.

The Younger-James Wildwest, which was formerly Puckskin Hill's Wildwest, of Paducah, is coming in for some hot roasts. The Jackson, Tenn., Sun says:

"A Jackson man who attended one of the side shows of the Younger-James Wild West says it was the vilest thing he ever witnessed. He says the language used by a slight of hand performer before the ladies was something awful, and that had he had a lady with him he would have gone out and got a gun and filled the fellow full of holes. The side show included, at extra cost, of course, one of the most depraved hoochie coochie dances ever seen in a respectable community."

A NOVELTY

STEAMBOAT LINE BEGINS SERV- ING LUNCHEONS EN ROUTE.

The Lee line of steamers between St. Louis and Memphis has inaugurated a novelty, beginning yesterday. It serves luncheon each day at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. to passengers, in addition to the regular meals. It is an innovation to the tourists, who seem to be big eaters.

HOT WEATHER WEAKNESS.

If you feel fagged out, listless and lacking in energy, you are perhaps suffering from the debilitating effects of summer weather. These symptoms indicate that a tonic is needed that will create a healthy appetite, make digestion perfect, regulate the bowels and impart natural activity to the liver. This, Heibine will do. It is a tonic, laxative and restorative. H. J. Fregard, Proprietor, Grand View Hotel, Cheney, Kan., writes: "I have used Heibine for the last 12 years, and nothing on earth can beat it. It was recommended to me by Dr. Newton, Newton, Kan." 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Strong Talk on Tuberculosis.

Dr. S. A. Knopf of New York, one of the leading American authorities on tuberculosis, makes the somewhat startling announcement that he considers certain conditions in the business offices and homes of the wealthy as being quite as bad as those found in tenements. Dr. Knopf's essay on "Tuberculosis as a Disease of the Masses" was awarded first prize at the international medical congress in Berlin and has been translated into many languages.

AFTER TEN YEARS

Peace is Declared Between Hostile Bodies.

N. O. and St. L. Makes Friends with the Brotherhood of Firemen.

Nashville, Tenn., June 1—A reconciliation has been effected between the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen after an estrangement of ten years. The Brotherhood was placed under the ban at the time of the Pullman trouble for the reason that many of its members violated their contract by going out on a sympathetic strike. All of them were discharged and none has since been employed.

The order was never able to organize the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis firemen until the advent of the Tennessee Central, which announced its intention to recognize the Brotherhood and the result followed that many of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis men began to affiliate with the organization.

This act met with the disapproval of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis authorities and nine of the employees prominent in the Brotherhood were let out for offenses which formerly had been overlooked or penalized. This action brought on a crisis, and a visit of Grand Master Hanahan and Vice Grand Master Phay to Nashville followed. The grand officers held a conference with General Manager Thomas, with the result that the discharged firemen will be reinstated, and an agreement was formulated to accord recognition to the brotherhood.

STARS AND STRIPES

I. C. CONDUCTORS HAVE NEW ORNAMENTS NOW.

The Illinois Central passenger conductors now wear gold bands on their coat sleeves, and many questions are asked as to the reason thereof. They tell how many years the conductor has been in the company's employ, each band representing a year, and for the old men a star is occasionally added, which means five years for each star. In this way the public can tell how long a man has been in the service.

A SPLENDID REMEDY.

Neuralgic pains, rheumatism, lumbago and sciatic pains yield to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Liniment. It penetrates to the nerves and bone, and being absorbed in the blood, its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures. Mr. D. F. Moore, agent Illinois Central railway, Milan, Tenn., states: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism, backache, etc., in my family. It is a splendid remedy. We could not do without it." 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Spent Treating Daughter For Fits.

Never Had Attack After Taking

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine.

The most frequent cause of epilepsy or falling fits is an inherited tendency to nervous disease. Chronic headache in parents is the most common cause of fits in the offspring, and strong relationship is shown, by the effects of treatment, between headache and epilepsy. Dr. Miles' Nervine has a wonderful record of cures of this terrible malady. Read the following:

"A few years ago I became interested in Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine through reading a small book published by Dr. Miles Medical Co. My daughter, May Ellis, had been troubled with falling fits for four years. I read in the book of a daughter of Mr. A. B. Oggood, Yalaha, Fla., that had been cured of fits, and I wrote him for verification of the same. Upon receipt of his letter I began the use of the Nervine for my child, who has never had an attack since the second dose was given her. Prior to the use of the Restorative Nervine I had spent more than eight hundred dollars with different physicians for treatment of my little girl and she received no benefit whatever. I used in all seven bottles of the Nervine and they were worth more to us than the eight hundred dollars spent prior to their use. 'His Restorative Nervine is in my opinion the best nerve medicine in the world and I cheerfully recommend its use to all suffering from nervous disorders of any kind.'—L. W. ELLIS, Carrollton, Ga.

ARE YOU LOSING WEIGHT

If so then your system is out of balance, and there is a flaw somewhere in your constitution, and a possibility that you are losing health, too. The falling off in weight may be slight, but it makes a wonderful change in one's looks and feelings, and unless the building up process is begun in time, vitality and strength are soon gone and health quickly follows. If you are losing weight there is a cause for it. Your blood is deteriorating and becoming too poor to properly nourish the body, and it must be purified and enriched before lost weight is regained. It requires something more than an ordinary tonic to build up a feeble constitution, for unless the poisons and germs that are lurking in the blood are destroyed, they will further impoverish the blood and weaken the system, and you continue to lose weight.

In S. S. S. will be found purifying and tonic properties combined. It not only builds up weak constitutions, but searches out and destroys germs and poisons of every description and cleanses the system of all impurities, thus laying the foundation for a healthy, steady increase in weight and future good health.

Food may be bountiful and the appetite good, but still the system weakens and we remain poor in flesh unless what we eat is properly digested and turned into rich, pure blood. S. S. S. re-inforces the stomach and aids the digestion and assimilation of food, and there is a rapid up-building of health and strength. S. S. S. acts promptly and beneficially upon the nervous system, strengthens and tones it up, and relieves the strain by producing sound, refreshing sleep. You can find no tonic so invigorating as S. S. S., and being composed exclusively of roots and herbs its use is attended with no bad effects. Old people will find that it braces them up, improves the circulation of the blood, and stimulates all the bodily organs, and persons of delicate constitutions can take S. S. S. with safety, as it does not derange the stomach like the strong mineral remedies, but acts gently and without any shock to the system. Those whose feelings tell them they are not strong or well, and who are growing thinner and falling below their usual weight, should take a course of S. S. S., and being composed exclusively of roots and herbs its use is attended with no bad effects. BAD TASTE PREVAILS IN PULLMAN CARS

From the World's Work.

There is an ignorant public that knows no better, there is a common-place public that does not care, and there is an avaricious public that pays its fare and asks no questions—all together making a public that has submitted too long to the bad taste shown in the furnishings and furnishings of Pullman cars. Those blue tassels that catch dirt and convey disease, those indescribable hangings that give one a feeling of suffocation—all these, when far less expensive than the beautifully polished wood, if left plain would give a sense both of cleanliness and of dignity.

Everybody goes into parlor cars or sleeping cars at some time, and a railroad ride comes as near to being a time of meditation as many men and women get. They become accustomed to these absurd trappings. Many hotels take the cue; and, while you are away from home, you live with this same parlor car scheme of things. You now even find on the furnishing counters of the department stores the same kinds of hangings and decorations. They look familiar to the thoughtless house furnisher and thus they find their way into homes, especially into apartments. The parlor car apartment is a well recognized aesthetic disease in most of our cities.

There is a heavy educational responsibility—a heavy public responsibility—resting on a great company like the Pullman company. It could save much money and make its cars more beautiful by leaving off gold paint from places where it does not belong and by discarding tassels and fringes and much other out of place ornament.

And there is a worse chapter in this story than the chapter on Bad Taste. It is the chapter on Death. Sleeping cars in which consumptives travel are at some places required by law to be disinfected, but they are not so required at all places, to which these unfortunate go, though the Pullman company disinfests the cars on any suspicion that invalids have used them. And it is a proper question whether a consumptive ought to be allowed to travel in a sleeping car with well persons.

CHILD MARRIAGES ARE MOSTLY MYTHS

The child marriages of India, according to Edmund Rueli in Everybody's Magazine, are myths. It is not marriage that takes place when little boys and girls are joined together, but betrothal, after which the girl bride returns to her father's house. The real wedding does not follow until long afterward. If the fiancée dies in the meantime the girl becomes the "child widow" of whom we hear so much, and is looked upon as old maid used to be regarded among us.

Real old maids are not to be found in India, or bachelors, either. Marriage is imperative, and the parents take no chances with youthful caprice—they arrange the whole affair themselves.

When the wedding day comes one of the customs that must be followed requires the groom, accompanied by all the guests, to go to the bride's home to have his nose pulled by his future mother-in-law. This prepares him for submission to the requirement of married life.

DECISION GIVES TWO WIVES TO CANADIAN

Cleveland, O., June 1.—By a decision of Judge Phillips of common pleas court Walter B. Solomon, commercial traveler of Hamilton, Ont., is given two wives. Two years ago Solomon was granted a divorce from his first wife, Anna O. Solomon. Then he married again. Six months later his first wife asked to have the case reopened, claiming her husband had made false allegations as to her whereabouts, and that he was not a resident of Ohio. Judge Phillips today reopened the case, leaving Solomon an opportunity to defend the divorce suit.

RECRUITING OFFICE

NAVAL OFFICERS HERE TO ENLIST MEN.

A United States naval recruiting office was this morning opened here on the third floor of the postoffice and will be kept open for an indefinite period of time. The office is in charge of Lieutenant L. C. Richardson, of Greenville, S. C., of the ship Alabama and he is assisted in his work of recruiting by Boatswain H. T. Jackson, of the Alabama.

Nothing but enlistments are sought for and no new men will be taken. It is not definitely decided yet when the work of recruitment will be started, Lieutenant Richardson having failed to receive orders this morning.

TWO ENGINES STRUCK

No One Was Injured in the Impact.

Assistant General Manager Herahan Here—Mr. Higgins to Go.

OTHER LATE RAILROAD NEWS

A head-end freight train, collision occurred at Fulton yesterday morning, when the first section of freight No. 153, Conductor Starr Milam, Engineer McQuillan and Fireman J. R. Lamb, ran into the light engine No. 918, which was at the time taking water at the tank at Fulton. Fireman Lamb was badly bruised and is now at the local hospital under treatment.

The freight train, engine 658, was coming down the hill at Fulton and got away from the engineer, it is said, crashing into the light engine. Both engines were badly smashed and Lamb in jumping was badly bruised and sprained. The other members of the crew escaped injury. The damage will amount to little, but the engines will have to come in for repairs and will probably lose several weeks' service.

Announcement is made by the Illinois Central that the Canton, Aberdeen and Nashville will be extended in Alabama from Brilliant north to Tusculum and Sheffield and thence west, paralleling the Tennessee river to the Mississippi-Alabama line, just north of Iuka. This line will be connected with the extension projected last fall from Jackson, Tenn., southeast to the Tennessee-Mississippi line, and across Tishomingo county, Miss., to the Alabama line.

It is reported in railroad circles that Superintendent of Transportation J. W. Higgins of the Illinois Central is to resign, and official notice of his resignation by Mr. I. G. Rawn, now assistant to the second vice president, a daily expected from Chicago. It is said this is one of the several important changes expected to be made as a result of the recent blockade on the road when so much freight was tied up.

Mr. W. J. Harahan, assistant general manager of the I. C., arrived in the city this morning on his private car, No. 9, on a business trip. He will remain here a short time only, leaving this afternoon for his home in Chicago. This is the first trip of Mr. Harahan's here in several weeks.

Mr. W. L. Rose of the Illinois Central shops is suffering from a very black and painful injured eye, resulting from being hit by a baseball with which some of the shop employees were practicing Saturday.

Mr. Allen Howard of Central City has been promoted to superintendent of buildings on the I. C. to succeed Mr. William Ames, who has gone to New Orleans to work for a creosote manufacturing concern.

Mr. W. C. Sutherland went to Barlow City, on the I. C. road between here and Cairo, this morning to monitor lauder.

THE SCHOOLS.

FRIENDS OF MISS MORGAN CIRCULATING A PETITION.

There are no new developments in the school teachers' middle except that friends of Miss Morgan, who are circulating a petition in the First and Second wards to ascertain whether or not the residents ever objected to her as a principal, are nearly through. This work was begun Saturday and everybody with the exception of two or three visited have signed up. No one thus far has stated positively that he objected to Miss Morgan as a principal. The work will be completed today and the petition presented to the school board possibly tomorrow night.

The graduating class is working hard on the program for commencement day. The numbers have all been selected and programmed in order and this will be one of the most perfect graduation exercises ever had in the city.

ROMANTIC GIRLS

They Only Wanted to see the World.

Found Waiting for a Train Near Epperson Saturday Night.

Clemmie Reeder and Beenie Steele, or House, the two girls of Bridge street, who ran away from home Friday night, have returned and are "very sorry" that they acted so foolishly, so it is said.

The parents of both girls attempted to locate them but failed until Saturday night when a message was received from Epperson stating that they were there waiting for a train to Fulton, from where they would go to St. Louis. It is said that one of the girls, Miss Reeder, had secured $65 of her father's money to make the trip on. The girls were sent for and brought home Saturday night and say they will never attempt to see the world again.

IN STATU QUO

NOTHING DONE TOWARDS SETTLING THE STRIKE.

There is no change in the ship carpenters' strike here. The ways are still shut down and no further word has been received from Captain Howard relative to a settlement. Captain Mike Williams, of the ways plant, has not been instructed to make any concessions and states that he is still unable to give out any definite information relative to the intentions of the Howards.

The Gazelle, the little steamboat which had been on the docks for several weeks, was today let in the river. Superintendent Young Taylor had been working himself in order to finish the repairs. He was aided by several non-union men and now that the work is completed, or nearly so, it is thought that as soon as the new work arrives, the dock carpenters will return to work.

Mr. Smith is a young man of unusual ability in his line, and has a host of friends who will wish him the success he deserves, although they regret his leaving Paducah.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent May 29 to June 2, warm wave 23 to June 1, cool wave 31 to June 4.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about June 5, cross west of Rockies by close of 6, great central valleys 7 to 9, eastern states 10.

Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about June 5, great central valleys 7, eastern states 9. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about June 8, great central valleys 10, eastern states 11.

This disturbance will belong to a period of low temperatures and therefore, while the warm wave will only bring moderate temperature, the cool wave will border on a cold wave, going nearly to the frost line in northern sections and exceedingly cool in the southern states.

This disturbance and the one preceding will constitute a period of remarkable and severe storms. Temperature will go very high not far from June 2 and very low near June 11, with frequent fluctuations between.

The rise in temperature will be more sudden than the fall and very high temperatures will prevail about and after 11.

Temperature of June will average about normal but will run to unusual extremes, lowest near 11 and highest near 26.

FREE TRIPS TO ST. LOUIS WORLD'S FAIR. ALL EXPENSES OF THE 120 MOST POPULAR SCHOOL TEACHERS IN THE STATE PAID.

School children and public generally invited to vote to determine the most popular in every county. Voice ten cents each, ten cast at one time. All money over and above trip expenses of teachers to go into erection of the Kentucky Building at the Exposition. Every voter thus given the satisfaction of knowing a worthy cause and important object have been aided, at the same time a favorite teacher has received recognition. Contest conducted under auspices of Educational Exhibit Committee of Kentucky Exhibit Association. Every organization formed to raise $10,000 for a Kentucky Building and full display of the state's products and resources at the Fair, the Legislature having failed to make an appropriation. Every educator in the state, whether teacher in public or private schools, or member of faculty of academy, college or university, medical, dental or theological institution, protestant or catholic denominational school, is eligible to election. Members of the Educational Exhibit Committee alone excepted.

Names of all school children voting to be enrolled in the Kentucky Building at the Exposition. Kentucky will have an educational exhibit occupying 2,500 square feet of space in the Palace of Education. The Exposition is to be the greatest international event in the world's history. The 120 teachers chosen will be lucky indeed in being tendered this trip to the Fair. Every county elects its own most popular educator. The county outside of Jefferson casting the largest number of votes will be allowed to send two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular.

THE VOTES WILL BE TEN CENTS EACH, TEN CONSTITUTING A BALLOT.

At ten cents each every school child in the state will be able to cast at least one vote for his or her favorite teacher. But the voting will not be confined to school children.

PARENTS OF PUPILS OR ANY OF THEIR FRIENDS MAY VOTE. The purpose of the Association being to elect the most popular school teacher in each county, so considered by the public generally, as well as by the school children. Ballots contain ten spaces, so clubs of ten pupils may be arranged and each giving ten cents be credited with his or her vote. If one person desires to cast ten votes, it may be done by writing his or her name on one of the spaces and sending one dollar. It is not required that the name of the person voting be given at all. All of the spaces for voters' names may be left blank. The Association wants, however, to enroll in the Kentucky Building at St. Louis next year the name of every child who cast one or more votes in the contest. Pupils are asked therefore to sign their names plainly to the ballots.

ALL EXPENSES OF THE TEACHERS WILL BE PAID BY THE ASSOCIATION. This will include railroad transportation from Louisville to St. Louis and return, board at one of the best hotels in the city for six days and admission to the exposition grounds for six days.

THREE PARTIES WILL BE MADE UP FROM THE MOST POPULAR TEACHERS to make the trip more profitable and more enjoyable. Each of these parties will consist of forty (40) teachers. This would make a total of 120 teachers, but as there are only 120 counties in Kentucky, the Association has decided to allow two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular—to go from that county—Jefferson excepted—which casts the greatest number of votes in the contest.

ALL TEACHERS IN THE STATE STAND ON AN EQUAL FOOTING in this contest. The teacher with only twenty pupils may receive more votes than the teacher with five or six times as many enrolled in his or her school, because the voting is not confined to children. The public will be an important factor.

Votes may be cast for any person who taught school during 1902 or is teaching now. This gives the teacher of a five months' school, which closed in November or December, the opportunity to be voted for during the vacation period.

ANY NUMBER OF BALLOTS MAY BE CAST AT ONE TIME. There is no limit. The more dollars sent in for any one teacher the more votes he or she will be credited with.

ONE DOLLAR CASTS TEN VOTES; TWO DOLLARS CASTS TWENTY VOTES; THREE DOLLARS CASTS THIRTY VOTES; FOUR DOLLARS CASTS FORTY VOTES; FIVE DOLLARS CASTS FIFTY VOTES; TEN DOLLARS CASTS A HUNDRED VOTES; ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS CASTS ONE THOUSAND VOTES.

All of the money received in this contest, over and above that used in defraying expenses of the 120 most popular teachers of the state on their trips to the World's Fair, will go for the erection of a Kentucky Building at the exposition; so every voter in this contest may have the additional satisfaction of knowing that he has aided a worthy cause.

THE STANDING OF THE CONTENDERS WILL BE PRINTED FREQUENTLY in each county to show his or her friends how the race is being run. Begin voting now for your favorite school teacher. The votes will be counted under the supervision of the Educational Exhibit Committee of the Association. The personnel of this committee is as follows: Prof. H. G. Brownell, Louisville, Chairman; Prof. H. V. McChesney, Frankfort; Prof. R. P. Hallett, Louisville; Prof. W. H. Bartholomew, Louisville; Prof. F. Paul Anderson, Lexington; Dr. Chase Palmer, Danville; President William Binwiddle, Jackson; Dr. W. G. Frost, Berea; Dr. B. B. Hinton, Louisville; Dr. R. V. Mullins, Louisville; Dr. Arthur Yager, Georgetown; Superintendent M. A. Casady, Lexington; Superintendent S. L. Froge, Frankfort; Prof. C. J. Crabbe, Ashland; Prof. Melvyn Rhoads, Owensboro; Prof. T. B. Alley, Bellevue; Prof. C. C. Cherry, Bowling Green; Prof. Enos Spencer, Louisville; Miss Fattie S. Hill, Louisville; Mrs. Emily E. Bracken, Louisville; and Mrs. M. B. Tucker, Louisville. Members of the Educational Committee are not eligible to election in this contest.

REMEMBER EVERY COUNTY ELECTS ITS OWN FAVORITE TEACHER. Competition between counties only applies to the race for the 120 trip, the county outside of Jefferson, casting the largest total number of votes being granted the distinction of sending two teachers.

The result will be announced in every paper in the state, and, in addition to this, a congratulatory message will go to the teacher elected in each county. Later the details of the trip will be arranged, each teacher chosen being given the privilege of selecting the month—June, July or August, 1904—in which he or she wants to make the trip.

CLIP OUT THIS BALLOT, FILL UP BLANKS AND MAIL WITH $1.

I cast TEN votes for _____ as the most popular teacher in _____ county. ONE DOLLAR ENCLOSED.

10c. 10c. 10c. 10c. 10c. 10c. 10c. 10c.

* Voters are not required to sign their names, but the Association wants all school children voting to do so, as it will enroll them in the Kentucky Building.

Voters have the option of sending ballots direct to the secretary of the Association or to the paper from which clipped.

Additional ballots may be obtained by getting extra copies of this paper.

Instructions may be made by certified check, registered letter, 1 cent postage, express or postal money order, or in currency at sender's risk. Address all communications to R. E. HUGHES, Secretary, Louisville, Ky.

MATERIAL FOR TRUST BUSTER.

People who go to market every morning and wonder why chickens, eggs and a few other things are so high, possibly do not know that it is because of a kind of "trust" that they hear very little about, especially from the noble Democratic statesmen and press who are constantly inveighing against the salt trust, the beef trust, the hard coal trust, and other trusts that seldom have the slightest effect on them and this section of the country. The trust at our door, however, is seldom mentioned. This trust is in the poultry and produce business as told in the news columns elsewhere. Agents are sent to various parts of a section, many having regular stations, and buy up all the chickens, eggs, butter and other things that they can find. The farmers, not desiring to come all the way to town, readily sell, as they get a good price. The produce and poultry are taken to the headquarters of the company here or elsewhere and prepared for the market, where they are sold at the trust's figures, or shipped to the big cities, where there is always a demand at any price they ask.

The effect of this trust is that the edibles we would otherwise get on the market here at a reasonable figure can not be purchased at all, or else at an exorbitant price. It reduces the marketable supply of everything handled by the "trust" and as a consequence boosts prices. It makes the supply totally inadequate to the demands of our people here. The trust itself pretends to feel hurt because it is accused of impairing the welfare of the people. It boasts about stimulating the farmer to raise more chickens and such things than he would otherwise raise, and thus afford a larger and better market, and then brings them all up for its own uses.

Even if the "trust" makes things better for the few people who raise chickens and produce, only about one out of 500, if that many, raise such things, leaving five hundred to eat where one raises. The farmer who raises may get a good price and do more all he can get but the five hundred who have to eat have to pay dearly for it and are also entitled to some consideration. The present conditions present a serious problem, but there is apparently no way to remedy it. It is a matter that affects the welfare, the pocketbook and the stomach of hundreds of people and is therefore a good subject for the local "trust buster" to work on.

The Democratic executive committee is having a hard time whipping the revolting forces into line, but it has adopted a resolution endorsing the chairman, and the chairman has had things his own way ever since the trouble started. If there is any harmony in the Democratic party this year, the kickers will have to acknowledge defeat, and they seem to have no disposition to do it just now. One prominent Democratic office holder remarked in the presence of several persons a few days ago on legal row, "If you Republicans beat us this year I don't think it will take a lot of us long to get over it."

Beaver Dam, Ky., is sadly afflicted with either an unusually enterprising correspondent or else a lot of plagues of various descriptions. Three separate dispatches sent out Saturday state that the snakes are more numerous than ever before, the grasshoppers are so thick that they eat the tobacco as fast as it is planted and the worms are visible in such numbers that they almost obscure the foliage on the trees. The governor ought to be consulted about sending troops there to suppress the "vermin"—or the correspondent.

It is rumored that the reason some of the main witnesses for the prosecution in Breathitt cannot be found is that they prefer a whole skin at a distance to witnessing a hanging of the feudists at close quarters. Sometimes even justice loses its charms.

Doubtless it was a wise father who cut off his son, a member of the Missouri legislature, with $5. He evidently thought his offspring was already well healed.

More Soldiers Arrive—Jett Believed to Be Weakening.

REDWINE CHARGED JURY.

Jackson, Ky., June 1—The regular term of circuit court began here today, and Judge Redwine delivered a vigorous charge to the grand jury. The special grand jury at Jackson adjourned Saturday after returning an indictment against Curtis Jett charging him with the murder of Jim Cockrell. The principal witness in the Cockrell case was Capt. John Patrick, who went to the grand jury room escorted by a detail of soldiers. He told the jury that at the time Cockrell was assassinated he saw the rifles protruding from the court house window. He recognized Curtis Jett at the window, but did not see the faces of the other men. Thomas Marcum of Indian Territory, a brother of the late J. B. Marcum, has arrived at Jackson to assist in the prosecution of the alleged assassins of his brother. Commonwealth's Attorney Byrd says he is satisfied with the work of the special grand jury. He also says the Marcum case will be further investigated by the regular grand jury, which was impaneled today. The militia from Danville and Louisville arrived Sunday and about 175 soldiers are now at Jackson.

It is the opinion of many that Tom White and Curtis Jett are weakening and will both soon tell all they know about the assassinations of Jim Cockrell, Dr. Cox and J. B. Marcum. The men are both allowed to occupy the same cell, strange to say, and were standing looking out of a window yesterday, though no one was near, and Jett is reported to have told White that "he would not hang by himself by a d—d sight." White replied: "It'll do us no good, for we can't get out by telling on others, and then people would not believe us." Jett then said: "Well, they are as deep in the mud as we are in the mire, and by God if it comes to a showdown you may depend upon me to take the other fellows along too."

CAT LIVES IN ICE HOUSE

And Seems to Enjoy Low Temperature of the Place.

In one of Philadelphia's big cold storage warehouses, says the Record of that city, is a cat that lives constantly in a temperature of ten degrees above zero, winter and summer. Moreover she seems to like it, and on the rare occasions when she is removed to the outer air she mews and scratches at the door to get back again. Rats and mice also live and thrive in that temperature, which is the secret of the cat's presence there. "We put her in the compartment that registers 30 degrees originally," said the manager of the warehouse the other day. "We had been overrun with rodents, and we turned the cat loose as an experiment. She seemed to like it, and when we moved her to the colder temperature, it had no ill effect upon her. It would be interesting to know at just how low a temperature a cat could sustain life."

Useful Thanksgiving Presents.

Instead of giving the fifty employees on her estate at Tarrytown Thanksgiving presents of turkeys this year Miss Helen Gould, on account of the high price of coal, presented each with a barrel of kerosene, a large kerosene stove, a barrel of potatoes, 100 pounds of bacon and a barrel of flour.

In conclusion Rev. Jones dwelt on his life work, saying that he was now breaking down and would soon be gone, but that he had one cheering thought, and this was the work he had done and the good worked on hundreds of persons in the country. He had been preaching for thirty-one years and during the past few years has been gradually breaking down. He said in regard to Paducah's officials that if they were his from mayor down he would trade them off for a yaller dog, kill the dog and still be ahead, for the hide would be worth something.

A petition indorsed by the civic federation a few nights ago was signed by a number of people present.

Rev. Bachman of Nashville, who has been called to the First Cumberland Presbyterian church here, preached there yesterday to large congregations. Rev. Bachman has not yet decided that he will accept the call.

The Ministerial association met this morning with a good attendance. Nothing more than the regular reports and routine work was done and the meeting was adjourned early.

SUFFERED FOR HIS FAITH.

Incident Caused Colored Brother's Temporary Fall from Grace.

At the recent anniversary dinner of the Clover Club of Philadelphia Dr. Edward Bedloe said:

"One winter night I attended a revival service that some colored friends of mine were holding in a little church on South street. The church was crowded. The exhorting and the singing was spirited. But all of a sudden the stovepipe fell, and, being hot, it began to burn a hole in the carpet. Brother Smith hastened to the pipe but hesitated about picking it up. The preacher from the platform egged him on. 'Bruder Smith, what yo' afraid of?' he exclaimed. 'Pick up dat pipe, brudder Smith. Doan' be afraid. De Lord won't let it burn yo'.'"

The timid brother accordingly took heart. He believed the preacher and lifted the pipe with his bare hands. But he dropped it again immediately. "De debil he won't!" he was heard to mutter, as he hastened out of the church to get some salve for his burn."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Wood Toothpicks, Skewers and Reels

One of the first wood mills established in Maine was to manufacture wooden toothpicks. A small machine was invented, which at present gives an annual output of 500 millions of toothpicks. They are made of the smallest pieces of waste wood, the cost of the raw material being practically nothing. The wooden skewers used by butchers are manufactured at the rate of a half million a week. One mill alone turns out in the summer season five million skewers and fifty million toothpicks, besides a number of other articles. Reels for cotton and thread are manufactured at the rate of 250 millions a year. For this output more than fifteen million feet of white birch is needed.

CAUTION!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of consumption and throat and lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we call your attention to Boscova's German Syrup.
There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe coughs, bronchitis, croup—and especially for consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the night and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cents size has just been introduced this year.
Regular size 75 cents. At all drugstores.

COURSES AT CHINESE DINNER.

Wonderful Edible Served at San Francisco Banquet.

At a Chinese dinner given in San Francisco in honor of Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson these were among the queer things served: Bird's nest soup came in four different courses. According to one guest, it was transparent, tasteless, utterly uninviting, and more like wallpaper paste than anything else. Chinese nuts took the place of salted almonds. Then there were dried eels sliced in chicken broth, sharks cooked in a dozen ways and served in several courses, "lotus flower," consisting of a slice of fat pork, a slice of dried duck and a piece of preserved watermelon, so arranged that one could tuck a bit of all three at once; dried mushrooms, turtle, preserved ducks' eggs, sharks air bladders in oil, shalots, meat, a dainty worth its weight in gold, being a tiny part of a little sea animal; the web of duck's feet, duck which had been baked, stuffed with mushrooms and stewed, and almond gruel.

GETS HIGH HONORS

Mr. Robert Wallace of Paducah
Distinguishes Himself.

Is the Best Drilled Cadet There for the Year.

Mr. Robert W. Wallace, son of Mr.
George C. Wallace, of Paducah, has won creditable distinction at Hopkinsville, where he is attending the S. K.
O. He is second sergeant of company
A, and in the competitive drill for a gold medal Saturday he won the honor of being the best drilled cadet for the year 1902-3.

The Hopkinsville New Era of Saturday says:

"A very large crowd witnessed the competitive drill at the S. K. C. armory this morning. It was the annual competitive drill for a gold medal and proved to be one of the most interesting in the history of the institution. As is customary in these drills the winner of the best two in three was awarded the medal. In the first drill Second Corporal D. L. Daniel, Co.
O, won; in the second Second Sergeant
J. Pulliam Smith, company C, won; in the third, Second Sergeant R. W.
Wallace, company A, won, and in the final drill between these three, Sergeant Wallace after a very difficult and nerve-straining contest, drilled down his company opponents. Sergeant Wallace is from Paducah. He well deserves the insignia of the best drilled S. K. O. cadet for 1902-3 which he won this morning. The contest was judged by Lieutenant E. W. Clark, K.
S. G., and Adjutant Bosley, S. K. C.
O."

Four Thousand Godfathers.

Princess Irene of Prussia is better provided for in the matter of godfathers than any other woman in the world. She can boast of no fewer than 4,000 godfathers, and how she came to obtain so many is a pretty story. When she was born the war of 1866 was drawing to an end, and peace began to be felt. Just at the time of her christening, her father, Prince Henry of Hess, requested all the officers and men of the regiment under his command to stand godfathers to his little daughter, whom he named Irene (Peace) in commemoration of the end of the war.

WHY MEN ARE LIKE RAZORS.

Barber Shows That He Knows Something of Human Nature.

"People," said the barber as he lathered, "are a good deal like razors. It isn't the ivory handles that do the best work always. Yet that kind of razor sells more readily than any other. I've seen some expensive silver-plated fellows, too, that cut like Damascus two or three times, but wilted when I tested them on a good horsehide strip—all right on the outside, but no body to the steel; soft inside.

"When you select a razor, don't look at the handle at all. It's the blade, not the handle that talks. The best razor in my shop has an old gutta-percha handle, and I keep it in a case that is red in spots and is getting frayed, but I'd let you have all the rest of the cutters if I could keep this one. The man that made it knew his business. It's finely tempered, works well all the time, and it sings when I lay it on the leather pretty hard.

"Same with people. Some of them do three days' work in one day, and three hours' work the rest of the week. When they're tested, they go soft, and the silver-steeled can't save them, because there's too much silver and not enough steel. A half hour on the stone makes a good razor better, but it kills a poor one. I'm always suspicious of a new razor that makes too much noise when I try it. I find people just about the same as razors, and I've got so now I'm a pretty good judge of both.

"Not too close? All right, sir!"—New York Press.

Not Entitled to Retate.

A Mount Vernon clergyman told his flock the following story recently to illustrate his opposition to the granting of ent rates or special privileges to men of the cloth.

"I once knew a clergyman," he said, "who found himself out on a lark with a party of men about town. He played billiards, and ate and drank with the others and held his end up in all respects until it came time to settle. Then he leaned over the bar and whispered to the bartender: 'Say, I'm a minister, and if there is any reduction in my case, why I'd be glad to have it, you know.'

"'Say, youse,'" replied the bartender, "you played billiards like a heathen as' ate like a heathen and drank like a heathen. Now, I wants youse to pay like a heathen.'"—New York Sun.

Woman In Business

As Illustrated by the Pathetic Story of Toby

From "Letters From a Self-Made Merchant to His Son," by George Horace Lorimer. By permission of South, Maynard & Co., Publishers, Boston.

I never do business with a woman that I don't think of a little incident which happened when I was first married to your ma. We set up housekeeping in one of those cottages that you read about in the story books, but that you want to shy away from when it's put up to you to live in one of them. It was just the place to go for a picnic, but it's been my experience that a fellow does most of his picknicking before he's married.

Your ma did the cooking and I hustled for things to cook, though I would take a shy at it myself once in a while and get up my muscle tossing flapjacks. It was pretty rough sailing, you bet, but one way and another we managed to get a good deal of satisfaction out of it, because we had made up our minds to take our fun as we went along. With most people happiness is something that is always just a day off. But I have made it a rule never to put off being happy till tomorrow.

I was clerking in a general store at that time, but I had a little weakness for live stock even then, and while I couldn't afford to plunge in it exactly I managed to buy a likely little shote that I reckoned on carrying through the summer on credit and presenting with a bill for board in the fall. He was just a plain pig when he came to us, and we kept him in a little sty, but we weren't long in finding out that he wasn't any ordinary runt and grunt pig. The first I knew your ma was calling him Toby and had turned him loose. Answered to his name like a dog. Never saw such a sociable pig. Wanted to sit on the porch with us. Tried to come into the house evenings. I used to run down the road squealing for joy when he saw me coming home from work.

Well, it got on toward November, and Toby had been making the most of his opportunities. I never saw a pig that turned corn into fat so fast, and the stouter he got the better his disposition grew. I reckon I was attached to him myself in a sort of a sneaking way, but I was mighty fond of hog meat, too, and we needed Toby in the kitchen. So I sent around and had him butchered. When I got home to dinner next day, I noticed that your ma looked mighty solemn as she set the roast of pork down in front of me, but I stayed off, thinking of something else as I carved, and my wife were off woolgathering sure enough when I said:

"Will you have a piece of Toby, my dear?"

Well, sir, she just looked at me for a moment, and then she burst out crying and ran away from the table. But when I went after her and asked her what was the matter she stopped crying and was mad in a minute all the way through. Told me a heartless, cruel cannibal. That seemed to relieve her so that she got over her mad and began to cry again. Begged me to take Toby out of pickle and to bury him in the garden. I reasoned with her, and in the end I made her see that any obsequies for Toby, with pork at 8 cents a pound, would be a pretty expensive funeral for us. But first and last she had managed to take my appetite away so that I didn't want any roast pork for dinner or cold pork for supper.

That night I took what was left of Toby to a storeroom at the Crossing, who I knew would be able to gaze on his hams without bursting into tears, and got a pretty fair price for him.

I simply mention Toby in passing as an example of why I believe women weren't cut out for business—at least for the pork packing business. I've had dealings with a good many of them, first and last, and it's been my experience that when they've got a weak case they add their sex to it and win, and that when they've got a strong case they subtract their sex from it and deal with you harder than a man. They're simply bound to win either way, and I don't like to play a game where I haven't any show. When a clerk makes a fool break, I don't want to beg his pardon for calling his attention to it, and I don't want him to blush and tremble and leak a little brine into a fancy pocket handkerchief.

A little change is a mighty soothing thing, and I like a woman's ways too much at home to care very much for them at the office. Instead of hiring women I try to hire their husbands, and then I usually have them both working for me. There's nothing like a woman at home to spur on a man at the office.

Winter Joys.

Now is the season when the young man rolls up his trousers at the bottom and socks the house of a maid where there is a fireplace. Summer in a hammock is bliss, but winter by the side of a pink and white girl with kind eyes seems to be more attractive. There is always the fire to poke up when the conversation grows dimmer than the light—Oregonian.

CRAUSTARK

... By ...
GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

Copyright, 1901, by Herbert S. Stone

He expostulated gallantly and delightedly and then hurried forth to call a cab. At 8 o'clock he breakfasted with them, his infatuation growing deeper and stronger as he sat for the hour beneath the spell of those eyes, the glorious face, the sweet, imperial air that was a part of her, strange and unaffected. As they were leaving the dining room he asked if she would not drive with him.

His ardent gallantry met with a surprising rebuke. Her voice, a moment ago sweet and affable, changed its tone instantly to one so proud and arrogant that he could scarcely believe his ears.

"I shall be engaged during the entire day, Mr. Lorry," she said slowly, looking him fairly in the eyes with cruel positiveness. For a moment he dared not speak.

"I have reason to feel thankful that you are to be engaged," he said at last calmly, without taking his eyes from hers. "I am forced to believe, much to my regret, that I have offended when I intended to please. You will pardon my temerity."

There was no mistaking the resentment in his voice or the glitter in his eyes. Impulsively her little hand was stretched forth, falling upon his arm, while into her eyes came again the soft glow and to her lips the most pathetic, appealing smile, the forerunner of a pretty plea for forgiveness. The change startled and puzzled him more than ever. In one moment she was unreasonably rude and imperious, in the next gracious and imploring.

"Forgive me," she cried, the blue eyes battling bravely against the steel in the gray ones above. "I was so unwell! Perhaps I cannot make you understand why I spoke as I did, but let me say, I richly deserved the rebuke. Pray forgive me and forget that I have been disagreeable. Do not ask me to tell you why I was so rude to you just now, but overlook my unkind treatment of your invitation. Please, Mr. Lorry, I beg of you—I beg for the first time in my life. You have been so good to me, be good to me still."

His wrath melted away like snow before the sunshine. How could he resist such an appeal? "I beg for the first time in my life," whirled in his brain. What did she mean by that?

"I absolve the penitent," he said gravely.

"I thank you. You are still my ideal American—courteous, bold and gentle. I do not wonder that Americans can be masterful men. And now I thank you for your invitation and ask you to let me withdraw my implied refusal. If you will take me for the drive I shall be delighted and more than grateful."

"You make me happy again," he said softly, as they drew near the elder members of the party, who had paused to wait for them. "I shall ask your uncle and aunt to accompany us."

"Uncle Caspar will be busy all day, but I am sure my aunt will be charmed. Aunt Yvonne, Mr. Lorry has asked us to drive with him over the city, and I have accepted for you. When are we to start, Mr. Lorry?"

Mr. and Mrs. Guggenbaker started in a bewildered sort of manner at their niece. Then Aunt Yvonne turned questioning eyes toward her husband, who promptly bowed low before the tall American and said:

"Your kind wishes shall never be forgotten, Mr. Lorry. When are the ladies to be ready?"

Lorry was waiting in his mind the advisability of asking them to dine in the evening with his mother, but two objections presented themselves. First—he was afraid of this personage; second, he had not seen his mother. In fact, he did not know that she was in town.

"At 2 o'clock, I fancy. That will give us the afternoon. You leave at 3 o'clock, do you not?"

"Yes. And will you dine with us this evening?" Her invitation was so unexpected in view of all that had happened that he looked askance. "Ah, you must not treat my invitation as I did yours," she cried merrily, although he could detect the bluish tint that returns with the recollection of a reprimand. "You should profit by what I have been taught." The girl abruptly threw her arm about her aunt and cried as she drew away in the direction of her room: "At 2, then, and at dinner this evening. I bid you good morning, Mr. Lorry."

The young man, delighted with the turn of affairs, but dismayed by what seemed a summary dismissal bowed low. He waited until the strange trio entered the elevator and then sattered downstairs, his hands in his pockets, his heart as light as air.

In an hour he was at home and relating to his mother the story of his wanderings, neglecting for reasons best known to himself the events which occurred after Denver had been left behind, except for a casual allusion to "a party of foreigners." At 1 o'clock, faithfully attended, he descended to the brougham, telling Mrs. Lorry that he had invited some strangers to see the city. On the way downtown he remembered that he was in business—the law business—and that it would be well to drop in and let his uncle know he was in the city. On second thought, however, he concluded it was too near 2 o'clock to waste any time on business, so the office he did not know that he was in town until the next day, and then to no great extent.

For several hours he revelled in her society, sitting beside her in that roomy brougham, Aunt Yvonne opposite, explaining to her the many places of interest as they passed.

Their dinner was but one more phase of this fascinating dream. More than once he feared that he was about to awake to find himself unemployed where exquisite joy had reigned so gloriously. As it drew to an end a sense of depression came over him. An hour at most was all that he could have with her. Nine o'clock was drawing high with its regrets, its longings, its desolation. He determined to retain the pleasures of the present until, amid the clanging of bells and the roll of car wheels, the distant future began. His intention to accompany them to the station was expressed as they were leaving the table. She had begun to say good-bye to him when he interrupted, self-consciously forcing the words hurriedly and disjunctively from his lips:

"You will let me go to the station with you. I shall—er—deem it a pleasure."

She raised her eyebrows slightly, but thanked him and said she would consider it an honor. His face grew hot and his heart cold with the fancy that there was in her eyes a gleam which said, "I pity you, poor fellow."

Notwithstanding his strange misgiving and the fact that his pride had sustained quite a perceptible shock, he drove with them to the station. They went to the sleeping car a few minutes before the time set for the train's departure and stood at the bottom of the steps, uttering the good-byes, the good-nights and the sincere hope that they might meet again. Then came the sharp activity of the trainmen, the hurry of belated passengers. He glanced soberly at his watch.

"It is 9 o'clock. Perhaps you would better get aboard," he said, and proceeded to assist Aunt Yvonne up the steps. She turned and pressed his hand gently before passing into the car.

"Adieu, good friend. You have made it so very pleasant for us," she said earnestly.

The tall, soldierly old gentleman was waiting to assist his niece into the coach.

"Go first, Uncle Caspar," the girl made Lorry happy by saying. "I can easily come up unaided."

"Or I can assist her," Lorry hastened to add, giving her a grateful look.

the narrow step beside her. Again he clasped her hand as she drew back in surprise. "You are going out of my land, but not out of my mind. If you wish your eyes to see the change in me, you have only to look at them in a mirror. They are the change—they themselves! Good-bye! I hope that I may see you again."

She hesitated an instant, her eyes wavering beneath his. The train was moving slowly now.

"I pray that we may meet," she said softly at last—so softly that he barely heard the words. Had she uttered no sound he could have been sure of her response, for it was in her telltale eyes. His blood leaped madly. "You will be hurt if you wait till the train is running at full speed!" she cried, suddenly returning to the abandoned merry mood. She pushed him gently in her excitement. "Don't you see how rapidly we are moving? Please go!" There was a terror in her eyes that pleased him.

"Good-bye, then!" he said.

"Adieu, my American!" she cried quickly.

As he swung out ready to drop to the ground she said, her eyes sparkling with something that suggested mischief, her face more bewitching than ever under the flicker of the great are lights:

"You must come to Milwaukee to see me. I shall expect you!" He thought there was a challenge in the tones. Or was it mockery?

"I will, by heaven, I will!" he exclaimed.

A startled expression flashed across her face, and her lips parted as if in protestation. As she leaned forward, holding stoutly to the handrail, there was no smile on her countenance.

A white hand fluttered before his eyes, and she was gone. He stood, hat in hand, watching the two red lights at the end of the train until they were lost in the night.

The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'"

Let us assume that your shoes fit you. Now what next? What is most important? Unquestionably "Style!" Demand that a shoe shall possess "Style!" If it has style and little else you want it; if it has not style but everything else, you don't want it!

The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'" is unique.

It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the "Dorothy Dodd" is a totally different construction from any other ladies' shoe made. It holds the foot firmly at the waist (that's the instep), prevents the toes from slipping forward, and thus gives a correct poise in walking. Yet it makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it till you see it.

me. I am not to make any race this year, but two years from November. If I were running for office, however, I should want Sam Jones to come here and take the stamp against me. It would mean certain victory for me.

"Now I don't like to be abused by people who don't tell the truth about me. Sam Jones is one of these 'evangelists.' I don't know what 'evangelist' means. I haven't been able to decide exactly whether it means to make money or to preach for the salvation of souls. I notice, however, that the 'evangelists' are all pretty good money makers. They don't neglect the almighty dollar part of their work. In a few days I shall write an article on 'Paducah, Past, Present and Future,' and show in it that Sam Jones has deliberately misrepresented and maligned Paducah and her officers. I propose to show that there is no better city anywhere considering its population."

He asserted farther that he had been in charge of the police court here about 35 years and knew what he was talking about, and didn't have to go to outsiders for information. That he came from Smithland, twelve miles away, and not from Cartersville, Ga., for which he was duly thankful. The trouble with Sam Jones, he said, and men of his ilk is that they want to destroy every man who does not think as they do and act as they want him to act. They give no one else credit for having minds and opinions of their own, nor of having a spark of goodness or honor if they happen not to agree with Sam Jones, et al.

The court concluded by saying that he had always discharged his duty as he believed was right and would continue to do so no matter how much he was abused or lied about. That he didn't propose to conform his methods to meet the demands of any narrow, fanatical class that harbors the idea that nothing is right but what they believe. He said in a few days he would read the paper on "Paducah" and possibly publish the answer he wrote to Sam Jones several years ago, which will still be good reading.

IN POLICE COURT.

A FEW CASES ONLY ON TODAY'S DOCKET.

Ernest Ozment, who has been in trouble here on numerous occasions before, was on the guest's bench in Judge Sanders' court today charged with stealing a watch from S.B. Chandler, of Iron Ore Hill, Lyon county, and selling it to George Wade as his own property some time ago. The two warrants are for petty larceny and obtaining money by false pretenses. Ozment was captured Saturday night in Cairo, and brought back last night. The case was continued until tomorrow.

Berry Howard, colored, but not from the mountains, was this morning fined $30 and costs for striking Maryland Jones with a rock.

Shon Long, Will Hineby, and Charles Baker were fined $1 and costs for being drunk.

John Miller and Mary Jones were charged with immorality, and the man was fined $20 and the case against the other continued. They are strangers.

Judge Sanders announced that hereafter when cases in his court were submitted and a fine agreed on with the prosecuting attorney, it would not reduce the costs, but witnesses in attendance were entitled to their fees just the same, and could collect them.

COUNTY COURT.

Albert Mayer has been appointed administrator of the estate of Ernest J. Mayer.

George Wormack, of Golconda, age 35, and Minnie Ford, of Golconda, age 22, were today licensed to wed. It will make the second marriage of both.

WOULDN'T COME BACK—George Onrl, colored, who broke out of the city prison several months ago when several negroes tunneled out, is under arrest at Cairo. He had several months to serve and when Captain Henry Bailey went after him and Ernest Ozment Saturday, Cord refused to come without a requisition, and it is not known whether or not one can be secured for him.

THE RAINFALL—The rainfall since Saturday has been one-half an inch.

Theatrical Notes.

There was no performance at the Ossiao, Wallace park, last night, owing to rain. The company instead rehearsed "Snid Pasha," which will be sung tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Mountjoy Walker, the leading comedian of the Boston Ideal company, will be seen in one of his best parts tonight. He never fails to create an abundance of mirth for the audience and is a favorite with all. Manager English is living up to his promise in giving the public the best in the operatic line and his efforts will no doubt be appreciated by a liberal patronage tonight and all succeeding performances.

STOLE CURIOSITIES

Tandy Reeves Broke into Former Chief Collins' Relics.

Was Arrested and There is a Strong Case.

Tandy Reeves, colored, who has just served out a city prison sentence, was arrested this morning on the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses and will probably be sent to the penitentiary, as the evidence is strong against him.

Someone broke into the glass case containing a collection of knives, razors and other curiosities collected by Former Chief James Collins, and stole half a dozen pistols and other relics. One pistol was pawned to Ackerman, the second-hand dealer and pawnbroker, and Reeves was identified as the man who pawned the weapon. He was arrested and locked up to await the action of the court.

The case and contents were the property of Chief Collins and the relics were prized very highly by the chief, who had collected the weapons for a period of ten or twelve years. Reeves has been to the penitentiary once or twice already.

NO SPECIAL TERM

Correct Summer Clothing

The Kind That Won't Lose Shape

Did you ever notice how quick thin clothing loses its shape? It's because it is not made right. We overcome that fault in our Correct Summer Clothing—we've had it made a new way. The coats have a full shoulder, with hair-cloth stiffening down the front, that keeps them from breaking or losing shape. The pants have cuff bottoms, concealed buttons and left straps, the cloth is thoroughly shrunk which overcomes bagging at the knee. There's no clothing like it for fit and style in Paducah. We show the new Irish Donegal Cloths, Cheviots and Home-spuns in coats and pants for men and young men
